You've Won!

Congratulations!

You have been selected at random as a final-round prize winner in Pipe's and Muffler's very successful "Blow it out your hole" sweepstakes.

Unfortunately, the firm that was hired to oversee the integrity of the sweepstakes process was only able to provide us with a list of sweepstakes winners, and went belly-up in the dot-com bust before they could rank the winners' prize winnings.

In order to sort this out, please report to the winner's area to receive your award in the form of prize money. All prizes will be awarded, and all final-round participants are guaranteed to receive some prize money.

Prizes will be awarded on a first-come, select-from-the-remaining-chances, as described below:

Instructions:
1) Report to the winner's area and form a line.
2) The prizes selections will be passed through this line starting with the first person. Prizes will be listed along with their suggested retail prices.
3) You may retain possession of only one prize card at a given time. When all prizes have been claimed, you will be awarded the suggested retail price, in cash, for the prize that you have selected.
4) Undesired prize selections must be relinquished to the next winner in the line.

Thank you for your cooperation in sorting out this mess.
